Proposal to Build Medical Waste Incinerator and Solid Waste Management Top Board of Health Agenda

By Alex Belisle

MILLBURY - The Board of Health addressed a heavy agenda at the August 8 meeting with all members present: Chairman Walter Weldon, James Dwinell, and Thomas Stratford.

Jessica J. Drive

The first item on the agenda involved a meeting with members of the Planning Board and Benjamin Miles regarding his Jessica J. Drive development.

Representing Miles, Attorney James Burgoyne asked the Board to explain why they denied Miles' petition to service the houses in that development with well water. Burgoyne said that the cost of extending water lines the two-tenths of a mile was prohibitive because of Massachusetts American Water Company's policy to charge the developer the gift tax which American Water would have to pay. Burgoyne said that this, in effect, almost doubles the cost of installation.

Planning Board member Lillian Moore agreed with Burgoyne, saying, "We've talked with the water company on another project, and it's horrendous."

"We've been having trouble with the water company ourselves," Board of Health Chairman Walter Weldon said. He explained that the board received a letter from the water company relative to the Jessica J. Drive project just minutes before their meeting began although it had been requested long before.

Anna Lewandowski, Chairwoman of the Planning Board, then asked Fire Chief Thomas Nault to address the issue of fire safety. Nault said that during the last nine years he has served as fire chief there have been on-going problems with smaller four or five home developments. "Developers fail to provide a flow adequate enough for fire protection," Nault said. "What we have is four or five homes, then a year or two later another four or five homes. What we're doing here is phasing in neighborhoods. The town is growing in leaps and bounds, and we're going in the only areas left - those without water for fire fighting purposes."

Nault warned that the town is going to be responsible and liable after developers go in, build, sell, and go on. "The owners of those properties have basic rights; the town has basic liabilities to provide certain protections, and, based on that type of situation, we're recommending public water for fire fighting purposes or sprinklers that can be hooked up to wells." Nault later added a third alternative, the installation of a storage facility similar to the type constructed at Paul Revere Village off Grafton Street. "Any of the three would be acceptable," he said.

Burgoyne then told the board that the statute governing their authority is clear: "You have to analyze the plan and determine what areas of the land cannot be built upon without causing undo harm to the health and safety of the public." He added that fire safety, while important, falls within the jurisdiction of the planning board and not the board of health.

A comment was made that a well at one of the Herricks Lane homes built by Miles has a high iron content. Burgoyne admitted to a problem with the well but said that the water was potable and the problem appears to be controlled by a second more effective filtration system. He argued that the water was not undrinkable; it was merely discolored by the high iron content. [This issue is in litigation.]

"If the board stands fast on its recommendation (not to approve the installation of wells)," Burgoyne said, "we're clearly going to have to appeal."

After polling the members of the board, Weldon said, "The board cannot make a decision tonight. We have to contact the water company."

Town Planner Dave Hulseberg suggested that the board contact town counsel for a legal opinion on comments made by Burgoyne that state statutes establish the limits of the board of health's authority to those issues which govern the safety of the residents.

Operation of Transfer Station

Craig Coppola, Chairman of the Personnel Board, and Joseph Chase, Highway Surveyor, met with the board to discuss the possibility of the Highway Surveyor assuming the responsibility for operating the transfer station.

"I feel that Joe (Chase) should be the fellow down there, if in fact he wants the job," said board member Thomas Stratford. He maintained that the highway department has the necessary machinery, a facility (the town barn) to service equipment, and the manpower. Stratford noted that Chase, who serves in a full time capacity, would have the opportunity to better oversee the operation of the transfer station than members of the board of health who serve in a part-time capacity.

Chase explained that he contacted the State Ethics Commission and was told there could be a problem with him assuming the responsibility since he was elected solely

Discussions Continue on Budget Cuts

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - Selectmen held a special meeting on August 17 to continue discussions in preparation for taking a course of action to resolve a deficit of $510,000 created primarily by cuts in local aid from the State.

At a special meeting on August 10, the board opted to send a memo to each town department, asking that they resubmit budgets by August 16 to reflect a 5% reduction.

At the August 8 Selectmen's meeting, the board voted to call a special town meeting for September 12 at 7:00 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

Prior to tonight's meeting, a written response to the 5% reduction request was received from Dr. Alfred Sylvia, Superintendent of Schools, and Chet Hanratty, Chairman of the School Committee. The letter indicated that the cut would amount to a $340,000 reduction in the school department's budget. The letter said that the reduction would impact on programs, student/teacher ratios, and would result in cutting nine teaching positions.

The letter also noted that the school committee was not scheduled to meet until August 23. Hanratty emphasized in the letter that he could not take any action on his own without the approval of other committee members.

The meeting began at 5:40, with 13 town officials representing general government departments and the school department. Jude Cristo, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, opened the discussion by stating that the Selectmen's office had received copies of various department budgets as resubmitted with reductions totalling $134,324.24.

Hanratty remarked that the figure didn't include a $35,000 reduction from the school department which was submitted last week. Hanratty explained that the original figure was $25,000, but noted that a teacher may be going on leave which would allow an additional $10,000 if the school committee approves that leave request next week.

Administrative Assistant Earl Chase then distributed copies of a summary of other available funds through articles approved at previous town meetings, assessors, school department and other general government budgets:

Chief Offers Safety Tips

To the Editor:

We are rapidly approaching that time of year when families enjoy the last days of summer over Labor Day Weekend and prepare to return their children to school. It is a time when safety is on the minds of parents, educators and safety officers throughout the Commonwealth.

As Chief of Police, I wish to remind your readership that there are some simple steps which each individual can take to be a little safer as the school year commences:

- Use crosswalks and obey crossing guards;
- When riding a bicycle, use protective head gear. Always cycle in the same direction as traffic, and learn the rules of the road.
- Stay seated at all times while traveling on a school bus.
- Always wear a safety belt when traveling in a passenger vehicle.

Please remember that the 1987 Expanded Child Passenger Restraint Law requires children up to the age of twelve to wear safety belts, or in the case of infants, use federally approved child passenger restraint devices. Should you have questions about the correct use of child restraint equipment or safety belts, contact the Massachusetts Department of Public Health at 1-800-CAR-SAFE for assistance.

Residents Question Legality of Posting for Grafton Road Property

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The Zoning Board of Appeal's August 16 agenda called for six public hearings on petitions for four variances from the ZBA by-laws and a petition for a Special Permit. The 6th petition concerned a request to withhold an occupancy permit.

Wales Street

At 7:08, ZBA Chairman Richard Valentino opened the first of the public hearings to act on a petition from Louis M. and Myrna J. Fantasia, 370 Massasoit Road, Worcester, for a variance relative to secure approval for Industrial I use of premises located on Wales Street. Fantasia was represented by Attorney Peter Keenan.

According to Keenan, the Wales Street building constructed by Fantasia was to be used for F&G Construction. He said that Fantasia entered into a purchase and sales agreement on January 6, 1988, and made application for appropriate permits. "Mr. Fantasia has spent a lot of money on the property," Keenan said. "After the purchase and construction of the building, the Planning Board took issue with the project, differing with the local building inspector who had issued a building permit."

Keenan cited two reasons why the ZBA should grant the variance: 1. The issuance of a building permit by the building inspector. "Everything requested by the building inspector was done," he said. 2. Keenan said that if the variance was not granted, a hardship would be incurred by the petitioners.

According to Keenan, a number of concerns raised by neighbors were addressed by sitting down with them and working out the problems. He said that sewer lines were brought up the street and connections made to residents' houses. In addition, asphalt chipping was placed on the private road to make the road and the area look better. "These are good reasons why residents are not here tonight," Keenan said.

Board member Walter Bernier asked how the connection was made to each home. Fantasia replied that he had made the connection from the sewerage main, and said he would bill the residents later at $12 per foot for each connection from the main to the house.

Howard Ball, a resident of 22 Wales Street, spoke in favor of granting the variance. "I'm all for it. He has done a fantastic job," Ball said. "It's better than ever. He has done landscaping and fixed the road."

Keenan then explained that Fantasia would be conducting an Industrial 1 business in an Industrial 2 zone, which was the reason for the variance request. He again noted the initial issuance of a building permit by the building inspector. "We are not faulting anyone," Keenan said. "The building inspector thought the building was to be a warehouse, storing construction equipment, and the planning board saw it as a business. Each one thought they were doing the right thing." Keenan said that not all of the planning board's conditions have been completed as Fantasia is awaiting the outcome of his petition.

According to Fantasia, the office hours for his construction business would be 7:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. He said that repairs to equipment could require longer hours and some Sunday work. He also said that vehicular traffic from the business would move at a reduced speed.

Board member Holly Oliveri asked if there were other businesses located in the building. Keenan replied that there were two other businesses: a pool company and MacKoul Electric.

Oliveri then asked if all vehicles would be stored inside. Fantasia said that 70% would be inside but other large heavy equipment would be stored outside because of possible damage to the cement floor.

Planning Board member Terry Burke Dotson expressed concern that Fantasia was creating a "mini-mall" by allowing two businesses. She said that was not the intent of the original permit. "This is a mini-industrial park. It's no longer just for his own use, he has rented out to two other businesses. It's not the original granting of the planning board which was a garage for his use," she said.

Dotson then asked the board to grant the variance for Fantasia's use only.

"Why didn't the planning board do this?" Valentino asked.

Dotson replied, "I don't understand why." She also suggested that if water is available later, Fantasia be required to bring it up and put it in.

Dotson then expressed concern with two gas storage tanks, "which could create a horror show if they blow up. Rte. 20 will blow also," she said.

Keenan responded by stating that Dotson, as a member of the planning board, made the motion to approve the site plan. "The exact same building was there, the gas tanks, etc. were there. The fire department approved the gas tanks and the fire detection system. The Town Conservation Commission approved the filling of the wetlands. This petition should get approved because Terry Burke Dotson required it," said Keenan.

Dotson replied, "Pressure was brought to bear on me."

Board member Walter Bernier said that he had visited the site and didn't consider it to be a mini-mall. He also said that the gas tanks were fenced in and landscaped.

The breakfast will include eggs (any style), pancakes, ham, home fries, muffins and doughnuts, and juice, coffee, and milk. Ticket prices are $4.00 for adults, $1.50 for preteens. Children age 5 and under will be admitted free of charge.

The first Labor Day Breakfast in Purgatory was put on as a fund raiser 36 years ago by a First Congregational Church women's group known as the Hikers. The picnic-style breakfast is now served each year to a crowd of approximately 1500 people (unless it's raining, and then perhaps only 1,000). Dedicated workers serve 134 lbs. of ham, 135 dozen eggs, and 2,000 pancakes which have been cooked to order over 50 gallon drums filled with burning charcoal.

Workers arrive as early as 3 a.m. to start 400 lbs. of charcoal and 24 lbs. of coffee. The 24 cooks arrive soon after to "stake out" their grills. These positions at grill-side are fiercely guarded territories, handed down from father to son or daughter over the years. The remaining 40 workers arrive at 5:00 a.m. to finish the last 2 hours of set up that took four months of organization.

This event is an experience that most families in this area enjoy to mark the end of their summer. The public is invited to attend this traditional Labor Day event and to see the minister's chance of a lifetime...being able to say "Grace" in Purgatory!

Oliveri asked if there were any plans for other businesses to be located in the building. Keenan replied, "The building is larger than his needs. He might rent out to others. That's his right as a property owner."

The public hearing was closed at 7:34. Board member William Martin moved to grant the variance with no stipulations. The motion was seconded by William Moore, and approved unanimously.

48 Providence Road

At 7:38, a public hearing was held to act on a special permit request from Charles and Wayne Pavolis, doing business as Mass Performance Center, for the sale of used motor vehicles at 48 Providence Road. Keenan represented both of the petitioners.

Keenan explained that the building and property are leased. He said the petitioners deal with high performance motor vehicle parts and accessories.

Charles Pavolis said that classic-type cars would be displayed and sold. He also said that most business is conducted over the telephone and that it would not be a typical used car lot.

There was no one present to express opposition to the proposal.

In reply to a question from Walter Bernier, Keenan said that from three to a dozen cars would be stored at any one time on the lot.

"You are going for three, period," Valentino said.

Keenan replied, "Yes, fine, that's okay."

The board voted unanimously to grant the special permit. Valentino told the petitioners that they would now have to go before the board of selectmen for a used car license.

19 Croyden Street

At 8:05, a public hearing was held on the petition of Andrew J. and Norma E. Cammuso for a variance to re-subdivide a lot located at 19 Croyden Street into three lots substantially similar to three original lots, and to construct single-family homes on each of the two remaining lots. The Cammuso's were represented by Attorney John Hernandez.

Hernandez began his remarks by noting that the neighborhood was an older type neighborhood, close-knit, with small lots that were allowed under previous zoning regulations. He also said that the variance to re-subdivide would be similar to when the land was purchased as tax titled property from the town.

According to Hernandez, the petitioners want to expand a 40'x90' lot to 55'x180'. "The intent is to allow two sons to each build a home on each lot abutting the lot with a house," he said. "One son plans to build a 24x38 square foot gambrel and the other a 28x32 square foot home."

Hernandez explained that the property is located in a Suburban 4 district, and said it was an appropriate situation for a variance. "According to the assessor's map, it would be a unique shaped lot for the area," he said. "It would be T-shaped. Many homes in the area are on much smaller lots. There would be no substantial detriment to the neighborhood. It would retain the concept of the area with not a lot of additional traffic. There is no derogation of the by-law." Hernandez also said that there was favorable support from some of the neighbors.

Valentino then read a letter from the planning board stating that it did recommend the variance because of increased density and the impact on septic systems. Valentino remarked that one additional lot would not adversely impact the area.

The public hearing was closed at 8:24 as there was no opposition presented by abutters or residents of the area.

The board discussed the petition for 15 minutes, with board members Moore and Bernier saying they were in favor of granting the petition for a variance as submitted. Valentino and members Oliveri, Hennigan and Martin expressed concerns with parking, possible water problems, and the density.

A motion was made to amend the original petition from three lots to two lots, one of which already includes a house. This would mean that only one house lot would be approved for building a home. The motion was seconded. Bernier then suggested an amendment to allow a vote on the petition as presented. Moore said he would withdraw his second of the original motion.

Valentino said it was possible that everything could be lost if the amendment proposal was added.

Bernier said he would withdraw his amendment, and Moore said he would stick to his seconding of the original motion. The original motion for amending the petition from three lots to two lots was approved on a 4-1 vote.

2000 Grafton Road

At 8:45, a public hearing was held on a petition from Eugene F. Hogan, 14 Frankie Lane, North Grafton, for a variance relative to use 2000 Grafton Road for office operation of a limousine service, and for parking and repair of not more than 15 vans used for the business, Knights Limousine. The petitioner was also seeking to expand the existing structure to accommodate the office by the addition of a 30'x15' two-story addition.

Cedar Avenue residents Eugene Graveline, Thomas Howard, and Leo Boliver questioned the legality of the posting of the hearing. All three noted that the advertisement as printed in the Worcester Telegram and Gazette and Millbury Journal listed the location as 2000 Grafton Street, and not 2000 Grafton Road.

Howard called the ad "incorrect" and "a deception."

Valentino acknowledged that an error had been made but said that abutters were notified.

"That's not so," Graveline replied. "All abutters were not notified."

Valentino said that the abutters are taken from a list supplied by the assessor's office.

Graveline then remarked that the hearing should be null and void until properly advertised to the public.

Boliver also questioned the legality of the process of notification in the newspaper, saying that the legal requirements were not properly prescribed.

Board member William Martin then explained that the only petition to be heard was a variance for the enlargement of the building on a site that had already been granted a variance. Boliver asked when and where the legal notice for the first variance had been advertised. He said he reads the local papers and did not see the advertisement.

Valentino checked the records and said the variance was granted to Knights Limousine on July 5th and was advertised in the Telegram and Gazette.

Graveline asked why it was not advertised in the Millbury-Sutton Chronicle. Valentino replied that the paper was on vacation. "Not on July 5th, and not the weeks the ad was run in the Worcester paper," Graveline countered. [Mr. Graveline was correct.]

Town Planner Dave Hulseberg suggested that those people having concerns with the legality of the posting could contact the Attorney General's office. He offered the address to anyone interested.

Boliver said he was denied his rights since he was not advised of the first hearing. "That's why we were not here," he said.

At that point, Valentino said he was not sure what to do. He then said the board would put a correction in the paper. "The abutters have already been notified. We will reschedule the public hearing for August 30th at 9:00 p.m. If they want to take it to court, fine," he said.

Boliver then remarked that the issue was proper advertisement. "If it said Grafton Street it doesn't meet legal requirements. I was not allowed to voice my opinion. I resent that," he said.

61 Oak Pond Avenue

At 9:00 p.m., a public hearing was held on the petition of David A. Bassett, 61 Oak Pond Avenue, for a variance to construct a 10'x20' open aluminum carport at the left end of his existing home. The proposed carport would infringe by 5'0" upon the zoning sideline restriction.

Stanley Samko, of 57 Oak Pond Avenue, voiced opposition, saying he thought the carport was to be placed on the other side of the house. He said the location was too close to the sideline of his property.

Valentino remarked that the petitioner wanted to protect his new car from drippings from the pine trees overhead. Samko suggested that the branches be cut off.

The board voted unanimously to approve the petition for a variance to erect a carport not to exceed 10'x20' at the left end of the existing house.

Occupancy Permit

At 9:30, Valentino opened a hearing on the petition of Terry Burke Dotson, 45 Beach Street, for enforcement of the Millbury Zoning Ordinance relative to withholding an occupancy permit for property located on Elmwood Street until the driveway is brought into conformance, and to insure that three lots on Elmwood Street have required 100' frontages and driveways to conform to Town by-laws.

"This is new to us," Valentino said, "we have never done this before."

Valentino then read a letter from Attorney James M. Burgoyne, of the firm of Fletcher, Tilton & Whipple, P.C. The letter stated, in part, "This firm represents Benjamin F. Miles regarding an appeal filed by Terry Burke Dotson, in which she requests enforcement of the Millbury Zoning Bylaw and withholding of occupancy permits on three properties, described in her appeal as 73, 75 and 77 Elmwood Street. For the reasons set forth below, this appeal should be dismissed by the Board.

1. The appeal should be dismissed because the petitioner is not an "aggrieved person' within the meaning of Chapter 40A and has no standing to bring any appeal with regard to these properties."

Valentino said he would entertain a motion to deny the petition for lack of the petitioner's legal standing.

Oliveri asked, "If an abutter filed, would it be a different situation?" Valentino replied, "Yes. Provided they come in with all the proof they need."

The board voted 4-1 to dismiss the petition because the petitioner lacked proper legal standing.

HERE . . . THERE . . . EVERYWHERE

Bits 'n Pieces

. . . Joe Morin

"In God We Trust - All Others Pay Cash!"

HI, NEIGHBOR!...guess who's back after a few weeks off? Yupp, your old pal Giuseppe Morinelli, Joe Morin for short. Let's take a poll: how many out there missed the column? Let's have a show of hands. Ok, there's one, two, three, and I believe a fourth! Not bad. Well, whether you like it or not, I'm back for better, or worse. So now, let's get on with the show. Ha-Ha!

INTERESTED in a new '89 Lincoln Continental for a mere donation of $100.00 a ticket? Yupp, it's possible you could win it. There will be only 410 $100 tickets sold. Good odds, I think. St. Louis Church in Webster has 'em if you're interested. Maybe it's all over now, but give St. Louis a buzz if you're interested...OUR LADY OF LORETO on Massasoit Road had quite a festival a week or so ago. Never fails, rain, rain. But did you see the size of that tent? Now that's what I call camping out!

THE "JOKER" strikes again!...the pastor of a nearby parish (we'll call him "Batman") takes off on a short vacation. He calls in a "friend" to replace him when he's gone. We'll call the friend "The Joker," which he is. The "joker" changes the sign out in front of the church to read "Welcome to St. William and Sheila Church." People are puzzled by the shenanigans. But fear not, a video was taken of this dastardly act! "Batman" (the pastor) knows all about it now, and made the statement: "I'll get even! Goodness always triumphs over evil." Go get him, caped crusader! Pow@$#! Zap#&! Whammo!@#

TAKING TIME out now to say "HI" to "Pastor Rae" Cameron and Lawrence Moore....'Tis an honor and pleasure to be in such good company. One thing though, I will have to watch my p's and q's what with that column by Mr. Moore on good English usage....He must shake his head in utter amazement and wonder how in the world I am able to get away with my murdering and desecration of the English word....Just kidding, Larry! Again, a pleasure being associated with you both. God Bless!

THERE'S PROFIT in power! Yupp. Read where Bristol and Myers and Squibb are merging in a $11 billion stock swap deal that would create the world's second largest pharmaceutical concern. Boy, are they gonna have the market on the sale of aspirins, etc....ANY TIME now some do-do bird from Boston is going to make the announcement that the water ban has been lifted and that we can now water our lawns, wash our cars, etc. Don't laugh, stranger things have happened....HEART OF Gold when it comes to animals, especially unwanted kittens. Mother cats from all over West Millbury are dropping off their little ones at the home of B. Dinsdale. He's got a way with animals. I wonder if he realizes that the party is definitely over!

"UPPAH" side of Millbury Ave., beautiful homes, large, well-built, lots of frontage and elbow room, and very expensive. "LOWAH" side, across the street, we have modulars, standard homes, small, almost side by side, not much frontage. One thing though, they don't have the huge mortgages that the "Uppahs" have! That's the bottom line...ho-ho!

IN HEAVEN there is no beer! Now they're saying that eggs do not contain as much cholesterol as had been suspected at one time; 24% less they now say. How about that?...T'AINT Funny McGee! A woman in Stockholm Sweden was trapped for 48 hours in a deck folding chair that folded up on her while she was sunbathing on her balcony. The chair's cloth tore and the chair folded as the 80 year old woman sat down, leaving her with her head between her knees. She was later rescued, doing fine, but what a sore back! Poor soul!...DON'T see any movement yet at Route 20 and Millbury Avenue. Thought the politicians were going to do something about it! Ha! We know better, don't we....The Bozos!

DIPSTICK of the Month Award goes to the person or persons who left the half-gallon of ice cream on the shelf behind the bread and rolls instead of taking it back to the ice cream freezer at Goretti's on Grafton Street....Dipstick is too kind; ding-a-ling is a more appropriate description....HOW ABOUT the price of scallops: $6.99 a pound. Good Grief!....THE PARKING LOT at the Grafton Street Plaza Shopping Center looks as if there was a B29 bombing raid. Hey, even London looked better after the Blitz!...ALWAYS AMAZES me when there is a grand opening of an establishment, and a discount is offered on an item or service. Invariably they will find something that requires immediate attention and or servicing. It'll cost you extra, though. That's where the money is made. Ah! The tricks of the trade....A TIRE STORE had a sale recently. Picked up a couple and wanted a warranty. Cost $6.00 but you had to get a front end alignment; that cost an extra $29.00. I'm telling you, it's a jungle out there. ANOTHER reminder friends, be sure to check your register tapes when you make a purchase, especially at the food markets....Many a mistake has been made there, many a profit has been made, also. So be on guard!

"THE WORST REASON to build a weapon is because it provides jobs for the people who make it. It's like being in favor of capital punishment because it's good for the electric chair business," says A. Rooney.

Imagine $50 million for a plane. For what? Send that money back to the cities and towns so that they can keep their fire departments, schools, and police departments up to par and up to date. Priorities! We just don't have it when it comes to priorities!

RED LOBSTER? Where are you? None around these parts. Those TV ads make the mouth water....Found out that the closest one is in Hartford, Connecticut....WHEN IS Channel 2 going to run out of reruns. Have been watching the same reruns now for a year or so....HOW MANY out there belong to that new organization called "D.I.N.K.," which stands for "Dual Income No Kids!"...NOW HEAR THIS! A to the position of highway surveyor. "It's something that we might have to change at town meeting if we decide to go that route," Chase said. As it now stands, Chase could not be compensated for the position. "Legally, that has to be straightened out (before I can assume the responsibilities)" Chase said. A response from the ethics commission is expected within the next two weeks.

Chase also pointed out that employees working at the transfer station would have to become members of the highway department so that they could be used effectively.

Personnel Board Chairman Craig Coppola said that provisions were made in the contract to allow for renegotiation of these positions. "The union will negotiate this with us when we know what we want to do," he said.

Coppola suggested that the board begin to consider where the board of health's responsibilities end and the highway department's responsibilities begin should the ethics commission approve the change in Chase's status.

Hospital Waste Incinerator

The board met with Earl McBride, a representative of Clean Air Incorporated who presented a proposal to construct an incinerator to burn hospital waste. McBride said his company is looking at two possible sites for the incinerator: 1) a parcel of land behind Miller Fence Company on Route 20 adjacent to the Wheelabrator facility and 2) a parcel of property in the industrial park which abuts Wheelabrator.

According to McBride, the DEP (formerly called DEQE) changed their regulations, and as of June 22, doctors and hospitals have to have their waste disposed of in approved facilities. At present most of the waste is taken to New Hampshire. The waste, McBride maintained, is not hazardous waste but is classified by DEP as "special waste."

McBride explained that the proposed facility would process about seven trailer trucks of waste a day, each truck containing about 12,000 pounds of waste. He said the facility would operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and the two incinerators would be operated at about 80% of their capacity, the 20% being down time for repairs and normal maintenance.

McBride said the ash residue from these incinerators would have to be disposed of in a lined landfill. Presently, the ash is being taken to Ontario and a site in Kentucky.

McBride said that his company is not looking at any other area sites to locate the 15,000 - 16,000 square foot building. He also said there is a need for six of these facilities in New England.

McBride acknowledged that it was a "sore subject" to talk about. "Many people are not aware that hospitals have incinerators; it now becomes a subject of emissions from these units." He also said that the facility would use the latest technology which DEQE has "conditionally approved."

McBride said he would be going before the Board of Selectmen with his proposal.

Recycling Proposal

George D'Auteuil, a member of the Solid Waste Management Committee, came before the board both as a member of the committee and as a private citizen. He explained that the Solid Waste Committee was looking for direction from the board of health on how and if the committee should proceed with a recycling study.

D'Auteuil pointed out that at the present rate of disposal, the town will exceed its 11,315 tonnage allotment. He said that, as a private citizen, he would like to ascertain what the board's position is with regard to recycling. D'Auteuil said if they are disposed to adopt a recycling program, he will continue working on a plan which would reduce the waste stream tonnage without costing the town any money.

"I'm willing to work along with the board," D'Auteuil said. "I think if we don't start to plan for a recycling program, it's going to cost us (the town) a lot of money."

D'Auteuil explained that he presently has the equipment to operate a recycling program and could begin operations when the transfer station opens. His proposal would allow the town to begin a pilot program without having to make any capital expenditures for equipment.

"If the board isn't interested in recycling," D'Auteuil said, "It's foolish for me to continue to explore how a program can be done."

Dwinell remarked that though the board was not ready to make a commitment on recycling, "We're all in agreement that something has to be done by way of recycling."

"I'm trying to find a way we can do it without costing (the town) money," D'Auteuil said.

After the meeting, D'Auteuil explained that his company, Frank Rubbish Removal, is sincere in its efforts to save the town money and resolve the problem of Matson said, "Send me home happy. I lost the first round. We should take back $2,000 for the Blackstone Valley Development Corporation. We haven't seen what they do for us."

Chase noted that that money has already been paid out. Cristo suggested that it be looked at next year. Cofske said, "They don't tell us what they do with it. Don't give it to them." Cofske also suggested that the Blackstone Valley Vocational School District do some cutting. Cristo told Chase to send a letter requesting a possible cut there.

Prior to closing the discussion, the consensus was to meet again next Tuesday as part of the Selectmen's meeting before the usual agenda. Hanratty said he would try to move the school committee meeting from Wednesday to Monday, August 21 so information pertaining to what the committee wants to do can be available for the Tuesday Selectmen's meeting.

The meeting concluded at 7:00 p.m.

Millbury Receives $60,000 in Low Interest Home Improvement Loans

MILLBURY - Millbury Town Planner Dave Hulseberg has announced that the Town has received a $60,000 grant to provide low interest home improvement loans as part of the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency's (MHFA) Home Improvement Loan Program (HILP).

In June, 1989, the MHFA made $4 million available for home improvement loans at below market interest rates. If you are a homeowner and want to improve your home, you may qualify for one of these loans. With the exception of loans for elderly or disabled borrowers (3%), the interest rate for home improvement loans is 8.4%.

Properties eligible for improvement under the MHFA's HILP program must meet the following standards:

1. The property must be an owner-occupied, 1-4 family home located in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, used by the borrower as his/her principal residence. No more than 15% of the property may be used for business purposes.
2. A single family home must have been completed and occupied for more than 90 days prior to the date of the loan application.
3. A 2-4 family dwelling must have been used for residential purposes for at least 5 years prior to the date on which the loan is closed.

Millbury homeowners may qualify for a HILP loan with an interest rate of 8.4 percent if the borrower meets the following general income qualifications: one person household - $38,000; Two or more person household - $39,600.

Homeowners may qualify for a loan with an interest rate of 3 percent if the borrower or a household member is elderly (over 60 years of age) or has a disability (as defined by the Office of Handicapped Affairs) and meets the following income limits:

Family Size	Income Limits
1-4	$32,960
5	35,050
6	37,080
7	39,140
8	39,600

In addition to meeting income guidelines, you must have a good credit record, stable income, and less than 50% of net monthly income committed as debt (including but no limited to mortgage payments, property taxes, insurance, revolving charge accounts and other loans).

For more information and additional guidelines on the loan program, contact Hulseberg at the Millbury Town Hall, 865-4754.

According to Chase, monies needed to balance the budget could also come from $6,003 left in the 175th celebration revolving account and $27,000 in the revenue sharing account.

Cristo noted that not all departments responded to the request for 5% cuts, and said some were cuts of less than 5%.

Town Clerk Dave Matson asked what happened to the monies in the traffic signal account for Grafton Street and Riverlin Street. Chase replied that the money for the overhead traffic light has been expended. "How about the reimbursements for the Ramshorn Bridge? asked Matson. Town Auditor Roger Picard replied, "That money is already in."

Matson then asked about the $4,000 for out-of-state travel in the school department budget. He suggested it would be difficult to justify taking a trip to an out-of-state conference at a town meeting.

Hanratty responded that some of that money has been used in the past for students. He also said that only one school committee member attended an out-of-state conference last year.

Cristo asked Hanratty to see if the committee could come up with additional cuts. Hanratty replied that the school committee came up with $150,000 in cuts up front.

Finance Committee Chairman Tom Clawson said that other departments were level funded which gave the school department extra money for their budget. Hanratty replied, "I don't see it that way."

Cristo said, "We don't want to get into a donnybrook here tonight. If departments can live with their budgets we will have the money."

"It's fine to ask for a 5% cut," Dave Matson said. "I came up with a 5% cut. You can't feel free to call a town meeting anytime, as funds have been reduced. I have cut my travel time and it will have to come out of my pocket."

Matson then remarked that the school department was able to find $10,000 for a computer lab this year [At the July School Committee meeting, it was voted to approve funding for a computer lab, not to exceed $10,000, and a salary of $1,700 at $17 per hour.]. Matson also said that $40,000 was found last year for a curriculum coordinator's position.

Hanratty said, "I feel safe in saying we can give $35,000 without consulting the others. I can't say $4,000 more from out-of-state travel without the others. That's as far as I can go on my own."

Cristo then asked why the school committee didn't hold a special meeting to deal with the budget crisis. Hanratty replied, "Last week I came up with $35,000, then a letter requested a 5% cut of $350,000."

Cristo replied that there is flexibility. "We're not looking at $350,000. I wish you folks had held a meeting," he said.

Town Auditor Roger Picard then remarked that he had some problems with a few of the revolving accounts in the school department. He noted that fees for the nursery school revolving account had a balance of $18,000 as of June 30, 1989.

Hanratty responded that that might be an area to take a "chunk."

Picard also said that $20,000 could come out of the cafeteria account. Hanratty replied that the cafeteria is self-sufficient and is in the black. He said that the state recommends three months operating expenses as reimbursements don't come in until December. "We can look at all revolving accounts," Hanratty said. "There is time. We need to reduce those balances without anyone getting hurt."

Cristo then reviewed the individual department cuts. Most cuts came in the areas of Supplies and Materials, Overtime, and Travel.

Matson remarked that a strong commitment by department heads would be required to live within the budget with the new cuts.

Selectman Gerry Bleau then said that there might not be a need for a special town meeting if everyone lives within their budget reductions. He also suggested that estimated tax bills be prepared.

Matson repeated his call for a strong commitment from all department heads. "I am afraid we may get into a panic situation. Then we can get into a mess if we don't do our homework properly. We can do other things like cut our work-week, if necessary. We need to get more of a look at the situation. Tax bills should be sent out so money comes rolling in. We could put on a hiring freeze and cut overtime."

Assessor Walter Hagstrom noted that before tax bills are sent, the "Recap sheet" has to be approved by Boston since it would be out of balance.

Picard suggested that tax bills could be sent out with last year's numbers. Hagstrom repeated his statement about the recap sheet. Picard replied that the state is being more lenient and is urging communities to send out bills as soon as possible.

Tax Collector Marie Colacchio said that tax bills could be completed within a month. She also said that she was not in favor of sending out estimated bills. Hagstrom agreed that to do so could cause a problem in the Spring.

"We have the potential to come up with money if we need it," Cristo said. "Do we want to go to town meeting in September or postpone it?"

Selectman Donald Gauthier suggested that some thought be given to all the information received tonight and that a vote be taken next Tuesday on whether or not to hold the special town meeting.

Cristo then suggested that the school committee see what additional cuts they can come up with.

Tom Clawson noted that there haven't been any real deep cuts since personnel have not been effected as has been the case in other communities.

Hanratty said that a $350,000 cut would have a demoralizing effect on the school system. "Give me a realistic figure," he said.

Town Treasurer Dave Cofske suggested a figure of $20,000-$25,000 additional from the school department budget. "We have to do our thing. Go to the September 12 meeting, plan for next year. It won't be easy. You're going to have to do your cutting before going to the Finance Committee with your budgets. Look at it realistically. Do the cuts on your own. We will know much we will be short. Keep the impact for next year down. Assume the state won't do that much."

Assessor Harold Ostrowski suggested that the special town meeting be held. "We take the cuts and start on the tax rate."

Cristo said it looks like the consensus is to go for the special town meeting.

exceeding waste tonnage. He said his preliminary research indicates that a recycling program could be put in place that would reduce the tonnage and monitor what is going into the waste stream without having the town invest any money.

As part of his professional activities, D'Auteuil said he has begun a pilot project, at his own expense, for recycling newspapers and has already succeeded in eliminating several tons from the town's tonnage. "I feel from the initial results we've had with paper that it's possible to recycle more materials on a larger scale and help the community. That's really my main objective," he said, "to help the town and the residents without adding to the financial burden of the town."

Landfill Capping Bids

The board then briefly considered the bids submitted to cap the landfill. According to Weldon, most of the bids came in well below the projected cost of $1.4 million. The top three bids were: 1) ET&L Construction - $767,872; 2) James W. Flett Construction - $786,928; and 3) Larusso Corp. - $852,962.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

There was a very interesting article in the June issue of National Geographic on the Island of Malta. But again, they failed to mention what I consider one of the most significant facts about Malta, and that is the symbol for our firemen, the Maltese Cross. I, therefore, dedicate this column to these brave men who put their lives on the line to protect our lives and property.

It was my privilege to be a Fire Chaplain with the New York Association of Fire Chaplains. I was with the Carmel Fire Department, the Putnam County Fire Chiefs, and the Putnam/Westchester Fire Police when I pastored the Mount Carmel Baptist Church of Carmel, New York. More recently, I was with the Jefferson Volunteer Fire Department of Jefferson, Maine.

Let me quote for you from the Fire Chaplain's Manual of the New York State Association of Fire Chaplains concerning the Maltese Cross: "The badge of a fireman is the Maltese Cross. The Maltese Cross is a symbol of protection; a badge of honor; and its story is hundreds of years old.

"When a courageous band of Crusaders, known as the Knights of St. John, fought the Saracens for possession of the Holy Land, they encountered a new weapon unknown to European warriors. It was a simple but a horrible device of war; it wrought excruciating pain and agonizing death upon the brave fighters for the Cross. The Saracen weapon was fire.

"As the Crusaders advanced on the walls of the city, they were stuck by glass bombs containing naphtha. When they became saturated with the highly inflammable liquid, the Saracens hurled a flaming torch into their midst. Hundreds of the Knights were burned alive; others risked their lives to save their brothers in arms from dying painful, fiery deaths.

"Thus these men became our first firemen, and the first of a long list of courageous fire fighters. Their heroic efforts were recognized by fellow Crusaders who awarded each hero a badge of honor - a cross similar to the one firemen wear today. Since the Knights of St. John lived, for close to four centuries, on a little island in the Mediterranean Sea named Malta, the cross came to be known as the Maltese Cross.

"The Maltese Cross is their symbol of protection. It means that the fireman who wears this cross is willing to lay down his life for you, just as the Crusaders sacrificed their lives for their fellow man so many years ago. The Maltese Cross is a fireman's badge of honor, signifying that he works in courage - a ladder rung away from death."

THE SUCCESSFUL PERSON

That person is a success Who has lived well, laughed often and loved much Who has gained the respect of intelligent people and the love of children Who leaves the world better than he found it, Whether by a perfect poem Or a rescued soul Who never lacked appreciation of earth's beauties Or failed to express it Who looked at the best in others And gave them the best he had...

UNWANTED telephone calls? They say you can call New England Telephone at 798-5830 and ask that your name be removed from any of its lists they provide to other companies.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? - *in Columbus, Ohio, Bob Drybread is a deliveryman for a local bakery....In Marysville, California, Dr. Gordon Mitts is a specialist in hand surgery....Bud Starling writes a regular column about birds for the Indianapolis Star....ONE EXTREME *to another. A painting recently sold for 40 million dollars; the same time Congress was debating the merits of a $4.00 minimum wage. Ah! The injustice of the world....EARLY BIRD!...But 4 o'clock in the morning? That's the time the birds in this part of Millbury start humming and strumming. There's one bird who warbles the same tune, over and over. He needs a good kick to change his tune a little.

THE NAMES of all those politicians who voted for that tax increase should be emblazoned on a plaque. Said plaque should be mounted in every town square of the Commonwealth. We'll get you guys for that "dastardly" act! Wait 'til election time rolls around. How much more can the people take? PeeWee Dukakis, it's all your fault. What the heck, you gotta pin the rap on someone, he's as good a candidate as any....WE ARE ALL admonished to stop and smell the flowers as we go through life. Well, I did and I got stung. Go smell your own flowers (ha-ha)....THE GOVERNMENT of Iran is what's called a theocracy; it operates directly according to the wishes of God, so they believe....The Israelis believe they are the chosen people of God....Americans are convinced their government operates "under God." None entertain the possibility that they may be wrong!

THEY SAY when it's hot in the kitchen, get out! When you run out of words on the computer, time to call it quits for a day. See you all next month, if the Lord is willing and the Creek don't dry up! Keep the faith gang, trust in the Almighty, do a good deed for someone. God's blessing on you and yours.

Little Joe from Kokomo!
